  - (b) Part II. The second part of EOI states procedure for response towards rendering services for disposal of expired OSD in safe environment.

3. Use of OSD. Oilspill dispersant is a mixture of surfactant and solvents that helps to break / disintegrate oil into small droplets when sprayed over in case of an oil spillage at sea/beach. Small droplets are easier to disperse in sea water and are more readily biodegraded by microorganism at sea. This preserve the marine environment.
4. Contents of OSD. The dispersant is water based liquid and comprised of three main components viz. surfactants, solvents and additives. It is not having any calorific value.
5. Methodology to be used for disposal of expired OSD. The OSD is water based liquid and having nil calorific value. It is not oil based compound. Hence, the expired OSD required to be burnt in safe environment.
